"Monday is the national holiday to celebrate the life's work and message of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.. Many have learned Dr. King was an important figure in the American Civil Rights Movement. His most often quoted speech, "I Have a Dream," was given during the March on Washington in 1963 and embodies much of his message about tolerance, love and respect. Dr. King's message went beyond "black and white." He also spoke on issues of poverty, employment, and gender issues. Today above all days, we should strive to treat each other with kindness and then do our best to continue this throughout the whole year.

Dr. King was assassinated in Memphis, Tennessee on April 4th, 1968. He dedicated his life to give Americans a "Dream" where people would live together in harmony and the world would be a better place. We all have ideas, opinions, and dreams. Be determined, like Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., to keep his “dream” alive. What will you do to make the world a better place?"
